SETTING THE MOOD

Bach and the unexpected note

What was this year's unexpected note: the idea nobody saw coming that turned out exactly right?

Pass it around the table.

APPETIZER

A joke just far enough

When did you last know something was off before you could say why? Where did that instinct come from?

Pass it around the table.

MAIN COURSE

A multidimensional world

What's one small thing that makes a place feel just right, that no spreadsheet would ever capture?

Pass it around the table.

ON THE SIDE

Your brain as a switchboard

When have you called your team “a well-oiled machine”? What does the metaphor get right, and what about you could no machine ever hold?

Pass it around the table.

DESSERT

Save room for this one

What's your fudgsicle?

The small, particular thing you love that no AI will ever care about.

Talk it over with dessert.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Pass the plate.

Take some home. Share it with your people, then tell us what your table said.
